

Tracing practice area with ten horizontal rows. Each row is a light blue rectangle with a dashed red line running horizontally through its center. The first two rows also have vertical dashed lines, creating a grid of small squares. The remaining eight rows are empty for independent practice.